MR. AND MRS. A. P. TAYLOR'S HAWAIIAN EVENING

No social event of this year has left on its happy guests a deeper impression of kindly hospitality united with striking interest than the "Hawaiian evening" with which Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Taylor entertained nearly 100 guests at their Manoa Valley home last night.

To kamaainas and malininis, to old and young—and there were many of all these—the evening held particular pleasure. Costumes of old Hawaii and of modern Hawaii, varying in gorgeousness of coloring to the grotesqueness of the humorous section of a costume ball; graceful hulas, fascinating latter-day dances; Hawaiian music, filling a moonlight-drenched and flower-perfumed air. All of this was blended with the care and good taste of a very hospitable host and hostess.

The evening afforded opportunity for many friends of Princess Kawananakoa to greet her and for many other people to make her acquaintance, and she was the chief guest of honor for the evening.

The affair was decidedly informal and guests were asked to "come just as you please." With the Hawaiian aspect of the evening in mind, many of the women donned holokus, and mumuus, while the men wore gay in white attire and red sashes.

Old-time dress and old-time customs of happy Hawaii were everywhere in evidence. Several of the men wore ahukulas, or Hawaiian canes. The pretty grounds of the Taylor home, sloping toward the valley and filled with handsome shrubs, flowers and vines, were seen to advantage under an almost clear sky and a beautiful moon, so that many of the guests gathered on the lawns or strolled around the walks, while music and dancing kept others busy in the gaily-lit house.

A corps of singing boys played old melodies, as well as some of the modern songs, and a very spirited and graceful hula girl performed at intervals throughout the evening, occasionally in company with some of the guests skilled in this dance.

Among Mr. and Mrs. Taylor's guests were:

Princess Kawananakoa, Prince and Princess, Kahanianakoa, Mayor and Mrs. John Lane, Mrs. A. A. Montano, Mr. and Mrs. George Smithies, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lucas, Miss Mary Beckley, Mrs. E. S. Cunha, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hind, Miss Mary Low, Miss Clara Low, Mrs. Mary Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Riley H. Mrs. Charles F. Chillingworth, who was hostess at two luncheons this week.

PRINCESS DAVID KAWANANAKOA HONORED

Mrs. Fanny Kunew was hostess at a pot luncheon on Tuesday of this week, honoring Princess David Kawananakoa, who has been so greatly feted by her Hawaiian friends. The table was very lovely with its decorations of yellow and green. Each guest-cover was marked with a lei. A fine quintet club furnished music during the luncheon and afternoon.

Mrs. Kunew's guests were Princess David Kawananakoa, the guest of honor; Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Mrs. Ellen B. Dwight, Miss Bernice Dwight, Mrs. Lulu Mahelona, Mrs. A. P. Taylor, Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Mrs. James Lewis, Mrs. J. Mana, Mrs. Helen Boyd, Mrs. Edward McInerney, Mrs. Duvanchelle, Mrs. M. Dowsett, Mrs. Annie Holmes Conrad, Miss Irene Eickson, Mrs. Mary Acherly, Mrs. H. Webb, Mrs. Carrie Riggs and others.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES ATHERTON'S DINNER

One of the most enjoyable of election night dinners was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Atherton on Tuesday evening at the Commercial Club, which was the center of interest for a large proportion of Honolulu men and their wives. Covers were laid for eight guests, who enjoyed their vantage-point for getting the latest news and taking part in the social features of the evening, also.

MRS. ELIZABETH KNIGHT'S LUNCHEON

"Laniakena" was the setting for a very pretty luncheon at which Mrs. Elizabeth Knight was hostess on Wednesday. Mrs. Knight's guests were Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. W. H. Williamson, Mrs. Frank Armstrong, Mrs. Harold Giffard, Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mrs. Armin Haneberg and Mrs. J. F. C. Hagens.

MR. JAMES McINERNEY A DINNER HOST

At his Waikiki home Mr. James McInerney honored Miss Stewart of Vancouver by inviting a company of friends to meet her. A swim was enjoyed and then dinner, and late in the evening supper was served. The table was very pretty. A crystal basket held a bouquet of long-stemmed American Beauty roses.

The guests enjoying Mr. McInerney's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, Mrs. Elizabeth Knight, Miss Stewart, the guest of honor; Mr. Harry Macfarlane and Dr. Clifford B. High.

"THE MINUTES" MEETING

Miss Catherine Blake was hostess to the members of "The Minutes Club" on Thursday afternoon at her Manoa home. About 20 members were in attendance.

MRS. RENTON HIND A HOSTESS

The Country Club was the setting on Thursday of this week for a luncheon at which Mrs. Renton Hind presided. The table was unusually pretty with pink hibiscus and long trailers of asparagus fern. Mrs. Hind's guests were Mrs. Donald Ross, Mrs. Matthew Graham, Mrs. Thomas W. King, Mrs. Trentfield, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Clinton Ballentyne, Mrs. J. A. Mathewman, Mrs. C. F. Schmutzler, Miss Muriel Hind, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Edith Kynnersely, Miss Alice Bond, Miss Marie Ballentyne and Miss Blanche Soper.

MISS VIVIAN BUCKLAND A HOSTESS

At "Laniakena" on Tuesday of this week Miss Vivian Buckland entertained at tea. The affair was given in honor of Miss Hazel Buckland, whose marriage to Dr. Walter Reeman of Fort Kamehameha will occur this month. The guests were comfortably seated on the lawn, when ribbons and shoe trees were passed. These were covered with the ribbons and will be added to the trousseau. Miss Buckland's guests were her sister, Miss Hazel Buckland, for whom the party was arranged; Miss Rosie Herbert, Miss Marie Ballentyne, Miss Marion Chapin, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Letitia Morgan, Miss Dorothy Harker, Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Merle Hana, Miss Geraldine Berg, Miss Myrtle Schumann, Miss Ruth McChesney and Miss Martha McChesney.

COL. WILLIAM C. WEIGEL'S DINNER

Last evening at the Country Club Col. W. C. Weigel entertained six guests at dinner.

MISS MARGARET MCINTYRE HONORS PRINCESS KAWANANAKOA

Princess Kawananakoa, who is the most feted woman of the season, was again the guest of honor when Miss Margaret McIntyre entertained for her on Friday of this week. The table was a miniature garden of Transvaal daisies in red tones. They appeared to be growing out of a mossy green bank. Red-shaded, light-ed tapers were very pretty. The guests invited by Miss McIntyre were Princess David Kawananakoa, the honor guest; Mrs. E. S. Cunha, Mrs. Carl Widemann, Mrs. J. F. C. Hagens, Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Mrs. Harvey Murray, Mrs. Clifford B. High, Mrs. J. Morton Riggs, Mrs. Emmett May and Miss Kate McIntyre. The afternoon was devoted to bridge.

MRS. HARRY VON HOLT HONORS MISS GLADE

Miss Constance Glade, who is in Honolulu as the house-guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry von Holt, was the guest of honor at a luncheon this week given by Mrs. von Holt. The table was very pretty and effectively decorated with pink hibiscus in the palest tones. The name cards were dainty conceits that harmonized perfectly. Mrs. von Holt's guests were Miss Constance Glade, the honor guest; Mrs. Alfred Castle, Miss Nora Swanzy, Mrs. C. Arthur Mackintosh, Miss Ethel Nowell, Mrs. Ernest A. R. Ross, Mrs. Sherwood Lowrey, Mrs. E. White Sutton, Mrs. Frederick D. Lowrey and the two daughters of the house, Miss von Holt and Miss Hilda von Holt.

Miss Glade will leave shortly for Kauai, where she will visit Mrs. Walker at the old Robinson home.

MRS. C. F. SCHMUTZLER HONORS MRS. TRENTFIELD

Mrs. C. F. Schmutzler was hostess at a bridge party this week honoring Mrs. Trentfield, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Donald Ross. The prizes were very useful brass mounted score cards and were won by Mrs. Donald Ross, Mrs. Charles Frazier, Miss Catherine Woodford, and Mrs. Kenneth Barnes.

Mrs. H. E. Savage, Mrs. Louis Warren and Mrs. C. T. Fitts assisted Mrs. Schmutzler in looking after the comfort of her guests. The friends enjoying this bridge were Mrs. Trentfield, the guest of honor; Mrs. Donald Ross, Mrs. A. Hocking, Mrs. Arthur G. Hodgins, Miss Catherine Woodford, Mrs. Renton Hind, Mrs. Matthew Graham, Miss Louise Lucas, Miss Josephine Soper, Miss Blanche Soper, Mrs. L. C. Howland, Mrs. Kenneth Barnes, Mrs. Charles Frazier, Mrs. Harold T. Hayselden, Miss Maud Jordan, Miss Ehrhorn. Pink hibiscus and palms made the house very attractive.

MR. AND MRS. T. H. PETRIE ENTERTAIN

One of the many dinners given at the Commercial Club on Tuesday evening was presided over by Mr. and Mrs. T. Herbert Petrie, who had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Renton Hind and Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Campbell.

MR. AND MRS. HAMILTON P. AGEE'S DINNER

Prior to the Cherniavsky concert at the Opera House on Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton P. Agee had as dinner guests Mrs. Grafton Beall and Mr. F. Muir.
